SYSTEM DIRECTOR

Allison Arnold, MLIS

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Libraries have been essential for me, so much so that they have become my life's work. One of the things that I find fascinating is the shift in what libraries are, not just what they do. In years past, libraries were places that were about books and not so much about people ... you had to be quiet and behave yourself in the library ... it was all about looking after the books. Don't get me wrong, we still care for books and encourage everyone to behave themselves. However, I have been amazed to encounter people who still think public libraries are just about housing books. It is time to break that muscle memory and reflective thinking. The fact is: Libraries are about people. They are about a safe, socially inclusive space providing limitless learning, discovery, and engagement possibilities.

The staff of the St. Clair County Library System works to ensure that very person who steps through the doors of our eleven branches feels valued and can access the resources provided without hindrance or judgment. Essentially, we live our mission: "Connecting you to the world of information." Public libraries have long been known as great equalizers because it doesn't matter who you are, what you do, or where you come from; there is something for everyone at your local library. Library staff does not judge what information you hope to discover, what topics you want to learn about, or what issues you wish to engage with. We uphold your right to do so and make the information you seek available.

Libraries are among the important institutions in a free and open society. The citizens of St. Clair County have shown how valuable their library system is to them by strongly supporting it for over 100 years. For that, I am genuinely grateful. Thank you for your patronage and support. I, and the St. Clair County Library System staff, hope to see you soon.

Sincerely,

Allison Arnold
Director
St. Clair County Library System

Large Print Available at all Branches of SCCLS

Those looking for larger type books or those who have compromised vision or physical limitations can now find those bestsellers, romances, westerns, fiction, Christian fiction and more at your local branch. Every branch now has a collection of large print books that cater to those who cannot read the smaller type that you see in traditional books. These large print books come in a variety of genres and contain large print; typically a size 14 font or larger. Most of these books are reprints of the original size, which was much smaller. Popular best-sellers of virtually every genre are usually reprinted in larger fonts. Authors include Mitch Albom, John Grisham, Janet Oke, James Patterson and Nora Roberts. The library is excited to bring these titles to every branch in the system.

Benefits of Large Print Books

You don't have to be a senior citizen to enjoy reading, but for many, poor eyesight can be limiting to their reading pleasure. Large print books provide readers with an opportunity to continue to read as you have done in the past. The following benefits are evident for those who use these books.

- Helps build and maintain vocabulary
- Provides mental stimulation
- Encourages reading comprehension
- Improves reading enjoyment

An article in Inc. stated that "Reading isn't just a way to cram facts into your brain. It's a way to rewire how your brain works in general. It strengthens your ability to imagine alternative paths, remember details, picture detailed scenes, and think through complex problems. In short, reading makes you not just more knowledgeable, but also functionally smarter. Which is why the only thing that everyone you admire can agree on is that you should read more."

While not every book is reprinted in large print format, many are.

For our Talking Book users: Do you subscribe to Talking Book Topics (TBT) in large print?

Supply-chain issues and worldwide paper shortages have impacted production of TBT in large print. But you can still get fast access to the latest issue of TBT online in HTML and PDF at www.loc.gov/nls/tbt. TBT in HTML contains direct links to BARD for downloading or adding books to wish lists, and TBT in PDF contains printable order forms for mailing. TBT is also available in audio on cartridge and on BARD and BARD Mobile. An abridged version of TBT is included in Braille Book Review, which is available as a BRF on www.loc.gov/nls/bbr and in hardcopy braille.

Contact the Library of Assistive Media and Talking Books (LAMTB) located in the Port Huron/Main branch at 800-272-8510 or email lbphstaff@stclaircounty.com if you would like more information.

Borrow a WiFi Hotspot

The library now has T-Mobile hotspots at every branch. The hotspots were partially financed with IMLS CARES Act funds through the Library of Michigan. There are 64 units that allow users to access Wi-Fi anywhere they go. The T9 units can connect up to five devices, and a fully charged battery will last for about seven hours of average use. They can be found in the library catalog, and they can be checked out for two weeks at a time by users who are 18 or over and are in good standing. The units were set up to help library users who don't have access to Wi-Fi. Please check with your nearest branch for further lending information and for availability.

- Hotspots check out for 14 days. They will be deactivated once overdue.
- Hotspots will be limited to one per address.
- These hotspots are reliant on cell phone towers serviced by the T-Mobile network. Most areas in St. Clair County are covered, but we cannot make any guarantees regarding service.
- Hotspots should remain in a temperature-controlled environment. Please do not leave the device in your car.
